

WHY THE UNITED STATES IS NOT A 'CHRISTIAN' NATION!

Christian principals do not make Christians! At a newly formed Freethinkers Club in Canada, many years ago, the members, all avowed atheists, were asked to write down some rules for living that would improve on the outdated religious type laws of past generations. Each member submitted suggestions. The first suggested the rule that anything you do, must first take into consideration how it will affect other people. All the suggestions included the same thought but in different words such as: the rights of every person ends where the rights of another person begin.

After a short discussion of the suggested rules, one Freethinker opined, "Well, well, we Freethinkers are not very original in our rules about how to live a happy and peaceful life. After doing our best to find a new and better way of living we have come full circle right back to the rule given by Christ, Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. These Freethinkers would be the first to assure you that they detest Christianity but they practice a famous, "Christian Principal". Jesus Christ made this Golden Rule a Christian principal by teaching it in his famous, Sermon on the Mount.

But Christianity did not begin with the Sermon on the Mount. Christianity began at 9:00 a.m. in the morning on the Day of Pentecost in the city of Jerusalem, about 1976 years ago. Christianity will end when Jesus Christ catches his church out of the earth, both the living and the dead, at an unknown time in the very near future. His coming is even at the door now in 2009. Humanity will continue after the church leaves the world, just as it existed before the birth of the Church on that Day of Pentecost.

Christianity began as a Body, a living human body which had been re-born by the Baptism of the Holy Ghost accompanied by speaking in languages unknown to the speakers but known to the men from every nation under heaven who had gathered outside to listen. It was the power of the Spirit of the Resurrected Christ baptizing human beings, men and women, old and young that made them Christians. A Christian was, clearly, a member of that group of 120 souls. That group was called the Church and the Body of Christ for they were filled with the Spirit of Christ. There were only 120 members of the Church of Jesus Christ when Christianity first began. Get ready for a shock: Christianity is ONLY what Jesus Christ says it is and what he did to create it.

Christianity is embodied in the born-again experience that Jesus Christ taught in John 3:3-8 where he said. Except a man be born of the water and born of the Spirit he cannot "see", or "enter" the kingdom of heaven. That birth of the Spirit was finally delivered on the Day of First Fruits, also known as the Day of Pentecost as recorded in the Book of Acts. Indeed, John the Baptizer had preached that Jesus would baptize people with the Holy Ghost. This Spirit of Christ baptism was the, 'kingdom of heaven' John said was, 'at hand'. Jesus began his Holy Ghost baptism on the Day of Pentecost, which means that the ministry of Jesus Christ, created the Body of Christ on earth. The Book of Acts is the book of Genesis for Christianity. Christianity therefore did not exist before the Day of Pentecost.

A Nation is a political entity and has geographical and social and often racial boundaries Christianity is the exact opposite. It has no geographical boundaries and is not political and consists of all races from all locations on earth regardless of race, or social classification. Members may come from any social group even unto the uttermost parts of the earth. Jesus Christ did not teach freedom of religion. Jesus Christ is the one and only TRUTH and way to God's salvation. Jesus Christ teaches the exact opposite TRUTH as that which is embedded in the Constitution.

A Nation has a capital city located within its geographical boundaries, where all political business is enacted and their records are kept. Christianity is the exact opposite. It has no headquarters with a street address and its only legal records are kept in heaven known as the Lamb's Book of Life. Rev. 21:27.

Our Nation's Constitution declares that all religions are welcome and each religion is legitimate. Christianity is the exact opposite. Christianity rejects all religions of mankind and follows Jesus Christ only as the one and only way to God and therefore all other religions are false and are thieves and robbers. Notice that Jesus spoke of the devil as a thief in John 10:10. When speaking of other religions, in John 10:8, he used the same term, thief, to apply to all other forms of worship except worship of himself only. Therefore Jesus was saying that all the other religions of mankind are forms of devil worship. American Christianity has been all too willing to accept all religions of mankind as legitimate. The Constitution violates the Bible and Americans are blind to the contradiction and go right along with the deception, thus making devil worship the American way of freedom. It is too small a step between permitting false religions, as the Constitution requires and accepting them as legitimate forms of worship in direct violation of the commands of Jesus Christ.

Americanism is the religion of all religions. Little wonder Jesus called this last day church of Laodicea, in which the people rule, blind and poor and naked. Rev. 3:14-18.

A Nation must choose its leaders who are to represent the will of the people. The leaders find what the people want and make laws and rules, which serve the best interests of the people. Christianity is the exact opposite. Jesus Christ alone chooses the leaders for his Body, the Church, and Jesus Christ alone gives all the rules and commandments. Christians have no constitution; they have only the 66 books of the Bible, which is the opposite of a Nation's Constitution in most respects. Jesus alone created Christianity and it has not changed.

Jesus Christ has warned the Church that, in effect, "When the people rule the pulpit, the devil rules the pew". The people do not have veto power over the rules and decisions made by the Lord Jesus Christ. The one church in the Book of The Revelation about which Jesus had nothing but condemnation was the church where "the people rule", or Laodicea. Remember, the Declaration of Independence stated in plain English:..."the just power to govern, comes only (that's ONLY) from the PEOPLE". That is notice to God to keep his big nose out of politics and politics will return the favor. The Christianity that thinks it is the United States of America is deceived and is not true Christianity at all. That religious belief is a form of pagan Nationalism. Therein lies most of the problems of today, 2009. If the Christian's God wrote the Constitution of America, he left himself out cold and completely voided his only other book, the Bible. It is a mystery why so many Americans still claim that church and state were never intended to be kept separate by the founding fathers. Read Acts 13:1-8; Acts 19:1-6; Eph. 4:4-12. 1 Cor. 12:1-13, for clarification.

NOTICE please: The greatest obstacle to Christianity and its most destructive opponent is a Constitution granting the power to govern to the people. When Christianity, as practiced, by many in America, thinks it has the power to guide the political institutions of their country and when they think their country was founded by "Christians", they are blind and headed for the ditch and don't know it. The fact is, the United States has its pagan totem pole just like all other pagan native tribes worldwide. America's pagan totem pole is located on Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota. Someone recently tried to add a new face to the group of four, that of the Barack Hussein Obama. God hates images.

The greatest single problem for true Christianity in the United States is citizens in America can't often tell the difference between their Bible and their Constitution. Citizens in America treat their religious leaders, especially pastors, like they treat their political leaders, they vote them in and vote them out according to how that particular religious leader pleases them personally. True Bible Christianity is the exact opposite. The Church has no voice in choosing their leadership and no power to put them in or out of ministry. Even in cases of moral turpitude, it is only a church leader chosen by the Lord Jesus who has authority to direct a local church group in how to put out of their company a guilty party.

In a Nation, military power is used to force compliance with its laws, to keep order and to make war. Christianity is the exact opposite. Jesus taught, "Put up the sword. My kingdom is not of this world". Christianity does not use any kind of force to make converts. True Christianity has never used any kind of force or trickery to gain favor with people.

Every Nation has a visible head who is chosen and changed by the popular vote of the people. The head of nations and governments never knows each citizen of his kingdom personally. Christianity is the exact opposite. The head of the Church is invisible, "Whom having not seen we love." The head of the church never dies, so he never needs to be replaced and knows each individual Christian perfectly.

A Nation is limited to its geographical location and it allows immigration of foreign peoples to a limited extent. In a Nation, each child born to a citizen is automatically a citizen. Christianity is the exact opposite. It is not limited in any way by geography and focuses on converting from among every race or nationality on earth. There is no such thing as immigration or joining the Body of Christ. And no infant born to parents who are Christians is partaker of their citizenship in the Body of Christ. They must grow to the age of accountability and be born-gain themselves by their own decision. The only way into Christianity is by the new-birth.

We learned in Acts two that the Holy Ghost baptism created the Body of Christ, the Church. Everyone who is born again, but only according to the original new-birth method handed down by Jesus and his first apostles, is automatically a member of Christianity. Only Jesus adds to the Church. The preachers preach the Word, but only Jesus adds to the church the same way he created the church, by the Baptism of the Holy Ghost of Acts two.

The first laws of the colonies required that every president must be a 33rd Degree Mason. In the Free Masons, to ascend to the highest order of the 33rd Degree, one had to swear an oath to, Lucifer, Baal and Jehovah. Be on notice please: No human being who swears an oath to Lucifer can be a Christian, no matter how they attend church or practice Christian or Judo-Christian principals. The all-seeing eye atop the pyramid on the $1 bill is a Masonic symbol. Some of the great American buildings, especially in Washington D.C., have Masonic symbols incorporated into their architecture. President George Washington refused to join any local church lest his act be interpreted as a government endorsement of that religion. Upon his death, the pastors of five different denominations petitioned for authority to conduct his funeral. Thomas Jefferson, who helped write the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, was not a Christian. He had a copy of the Bible but his Bible ended with the burial of Jesus. No, Mr. Jefferson, great American that he was, never accepted the miracles or the resurrection of Jesus or the blood atonement or deity of Jesus Christ. Christians did not found America. Not one of the so-called, “founding fathers” every spoke or wrote that he was a born-again Christian. Not one.

Refugees fled from the persecution by the perverted form of Christianity as practiced by the Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches of England and Italy. Early pilgrims in America were therefore hostile to any “Old World” religious endeavor. They were drawn to the New World for its freedom of religion and its unlimited open frontier country where they could claim land and get a new start in life. The ministries of frontier preachers associated with the ‘renegade’ groups called the Anabaptist and Methodist, all of whom rose from within the ranks of the people themselves and were without high church endorsement, grew rapidly as the population moved ever westward.

Religious practices that facilitated the growth of the republic as a democracy and justified the economic doctrines of free enterprise flourished in early America. Christian principals, when blended in with the energies of the entrepreneurs of the new world, formed the pragmatic religious mind-set, which is still in vogue today. Pragmatism was the very life-blood of the early American settlers. It was their survival imperative which said: “if it works accept it; if it doesn’t work throw it out”.

In the New World, with every citizen able to make up his or her own mind about religious doctrines and practices and with the authority to choose or put down both political and religious leaders, change became the sine-qua-non or the major distinguishing characteristic of religion in America. The line between pragmatism and outright rebellion was tailored to suit each citizen’s taste. The religion of “Americanism” was born on the frontiers of America.

The Old World said, “This is the way and you will walk in it”. The New World speaks even today and still says, “I will make up my own mind about truth and reject what I don’t like and no one can tell me what to do”. The New World, with its wide open spaces and total freedom helped the early settlers throw off the shackles of the ironclad laws of Old World religion and they came up with a new religion, Americanism. This is why most Americans today think their nation is a “Christian” nation. Americanism was a form of religion, which welcomed all religions except Roman Catholicism and attempted to separate church and state making the church forever the vassal of the state. But they did give the Christian religion, “most favored religion” status. Early America bought into the philosophy that, ‘religion should be the servant of ethics as defined by we the people’. Now the only requirements for being a Christian were: pay your taxes, be a person given to charitable giving, be a law-abiding citizen, pay your honest debts and you are a Christian. So now, to be an American was to be a Christian.

That meant that Christianity had become what “we the people” say it is. To be a good American was to be a good Christian. True Christianity died long before it could get a toehold in the New World. Americanism is the direct opposite of the Church, which was created at 9:00 a.m. on the morning of the Day of Pentecost 1976 years ago. Christianity never enjoyed more recognition than, ‘most favored religion’ status.

The Christian religion as practiced today in America bears no resemblance to what took place at 9:00 a.m. on that Day of Pentecost in Jerusalem 1976 years ago. That is why when the pope of Rome came to America recently and announced that the Muslims are our brothers in Christ for they worship the same god that Christians worship, not one preacher or minister of religion in America raised a complaint or a warning. No voice was heard nationwide or worldwide to refute the blasphemy, which meant that the Muslim’s god, Allah was just another name for the Christian’s God, Jesus. In light of recent destructive changes in every area of government and society in the United States, we see clearly that Americanism is not a very functional religion.

The many religious polls taken within the past 15 years reveal that only a bare majority of Americans call themselves Christians. But many who say they are Christians reject the great doctrines of the virgin birth, the literal resurrection, the divine inspiration of the Bible and the deity of Christ. America is not a Christian nation.

Observe please that the pope of Rome announced world wide in 1986 that all the religions of mankind worship the same god, they just call him by a different name. This announcement had the effect of canceling the Great Commission of Jesus Christ. It pulled the rug out from under world evangelism. If all gods are the same, then no one needs to be 'saved' or converted. Americanism never lifted a voice in protest or warning of the pope's blasphemy. Not one voice was raised to cry out against such blatant blasphemy against the Lord Jesus Christ.

America is far from being a Christian nation. For a list of the new doctrines that Americans believe and practice daily, just turn on a TV, or watch the Internet, the movies and videos being circulated daily 24 hours a day, seven days a week. What you will see is called Baal worship, Asherahs. Look up Baal religion in a Bible Dictionary or Encyclopedia. The basic premise of Baal worship is: All men are attracted to the bodies of all women. Women respond in delight by dressing in progressively greater degrees of nakedness. That is why America literally fell on its face in worshipful adoration of a forerunner of the antichrist and is allowing him to break so many laws basic to the Constitution. America is not a Christian nation. It is nearer the opposite pole.

The Book of Acts is the Christian Manifesto. It is where Christianity was first born. Read it, learn what it says.
